ONBOARDING QUESTIONS TO ASK STUDENTS:
A FACULTY GUIDE

What's the most meaningful experience during your university career so far?
How many hours per week are you able to dedicate to this research experience?
When we send an email, what's a reasonable response time? (e.g., 48 hours)
What will make this research role a meaningful opportunity for you?
Are there any accommodations that would support you in making the most of this research experience?
What is the best platform to communicate? Email? Microsoft Teams Chat? Slack?
When we have a busy week with other commitments, how will we let each other know?
How do you best communicate? (e.g., in person, e-meetings, e-mail)
How will you communicate when you're unable to meet a deadline for a research task?
Can you share 1-2 goals you want to accomplish through this research position? This might include research skills specific to a project (e.g., coding transcripts) or more general professional skills (e.g., critical-thinking, communication skills).
